MELRIKS PROVEN FIVE STEP PROCESS

INTERVIEW

This is the most important step. Our writer will interview the expert(s) in-person or over the phone. It's a painless exercise. The experts speak passionately about their topics, and our writing professionals record the details.

WRITING

After reviewing our goals for the project, our writing team will draft several internal versions of the content. The primary audience is always top-of-mind, but we also look at content strategically to customize the message.

"THE GREEN LIGHT"

All of these design pieces are also funneled through our online review process for your approval or changes.

DESIGN

Your project takes shape during the design step.

- ◆ Design publications
- ◆ Code and develop web pages
- ◆ Create illustrations and photography

CONSTRUCTIVE CRITICISM

We want the best content, and honest feedback is vital to that process.

REVIEW

When the rough draft is ready, we'll share a link with you by email so you can review it Online. In our Online Review Studio, you can leave us comments or changes.

PUBLISHING

Before the final projects are published, we'll send you a second review link. Your express approval is required before the project can be finished.

TOP HEALTH IT ISSUES

Let's Solve Your Top 3 Tech Problems Today!

24/7/365 Our support team is ready to assist your team when you need us.

Legacy Systems
Public cloud services are not HIPAA compliant. Healthcare organizations can work around this by extending their existing tax server solutions to a hybrid cloud, allowing EHR applications to communicate with each other via a private secure network, guaranteeing delivery with military grade end-to-end encryption.

BYOD
Bring Your Own Device (BYOD)—how the influx of consumer-grade devices, such as the iPhone, are big problem. Doctors, nurses and other staff do require the portability and information sharing capability that smartphones can provide, but personal devices introduce IT issues on multiple fronts.

Patient Demands for Data
The biggest IT challenge today is meeting increasing demand from patients for data and information accessibility. Consumer-facing tech such as Apple AirPods are causing patients to expect more from medical providers. They want the data now, they want it securely, and they want it everywhere.

With over 20 years in healthcare IT, we have the expertise and tech solutions your team needs.
